Consider enrolling in these classes:

ACAD 108: Career and Life Planning - This class helps you plan and prepare for the life you want after college. Learn how to choose a career path that balances interests, abilities, and values with realities of the job market. Explore majors, identify steps required to become employable, and build job search skills necessary to achieve goals.

B2C 297-004: Professional Skills - This class introduces you to professional/business fundamentals and career skills such as project management, problem solving, design thinking, organization IQ, career road mapping, and job search strategies. Through a combination of on-line simulations, in-class activities, and a team-based capstone project you will have the opportunity to transfer skills you are developing in other classes to a professional environment.
